

Save the Date

Northwestern School of Law
of Lewis & Clark College
commemorates

Judge Roosevelt Robinson's 70th Birthday

and celebrates the

Roosevelt Robinson Minority Scholarship

Thursday, January 19, 2012
4:00–7:00 p.m.

Roosevelt Robinson Minority Scholarship

Increasing diversity in the Oregon legal community

The commemoration of Judge Roosevelt Robinson's 70th birthday is the culmination of an effort led by the Judge's friends and colleagues to raise funds for the Roosevelt Robinson Minority Scholarship. By increasing the scholarship's endowed fund, the law school can award a larger scholarship to one deserving student or increase the number of recipients to two each year. To date, eight students have received this scholarship. Each recipient has demonstrated superior integrity and high ethical standards, excellent scholarship during law school and a caring attitude towards others. Judge Robinson overcame difficult circumstances to touch the lives of all who knew him. By continuing to support this important scholarship, we are preserving his legacy and increasing diversity in the Oregon legal community.

Thursday, January 19, 2012
4:00–7:00 p.m.

Multnomah County Courthouse
Courtroom 602
Portland, Oregon

Invitation to follow.
Questions? Contact
law scholarship@lclark.edu

Northwestern School of Law
of Lewis & Clark College
10015 S.W. Terwilliger Blvd.
Portland, Oregon 97219-7799
503-768-6600 • law.lclark.edu